It is a detox water foot bath which uses brass and stainless steel electrodes. It is used as a foot bath to cleanse, balance and enhance the bio-energy. This energy is the electro-magnetic force that is stored within the body and utilized by our cells.

Chinese medicine refers to this energy as the "chi". The complex energy fields permeate and realign the body's energy field while improving oxygen levels. Internationally and on dozens of websites many claims relating to this style of machinery exist. Whilst many customers of the foot bath report amazing positive effects, we are definite in reporting that any claims made are those not of our company.

Eva Karpati has selected a water so pure, so clean, so fresh, it could only come from one place. Fresh hanging fruit of the land untouched by hand, safe from the soil. The most naturally purified water on earth, extracted using a patented method. The taste is so pure, so fresh, so clean, your body will demand it.

Karpati pure water is produced by an exclusive, award winning 'pressure chilling', that extracts the purest water from Australian fruit. Every drop is filtered through fruit - making it the most naturally purified water on earth, using nature's living filters.

Nature's secret to keep fruit fresh is the H₂O¹⁸ water molecule - a natural water molecule stored in fresh juice. Scientific research demonstrates that water in fruit will keep your body hydrated for longer than any other water! This is a unique feature of water from fruit. Karpati pure water has no chemicals - no herbicides, pesticides or pollution - and is safe, clean and refreshing.

Karpati pure water is a renewable resource and does not deplete underground supplies.

The patented Luminex L600 ensures the most advanced hair removal technique on the market by using the French developed Latest innovation - Square Intense Pulse Light (SPL).

The intense selective light of the Luminex penetrates the skin and is absorbed by the melanin (pigmentation) in the hair. This absorption heats the hair and the heat is transmitted to the nourishment structure of the hair: the follicle. This results in it being heated to a temperature of 70°C for a millisecond and it is thus killed. Hundreds of hair follicles are destroyed by each flash; the hairs then fall out in one to two weeks. The Luminex permits large areas to be treated in a very short time.

The principle of the Luminex involves the use of wide spectrum natural light filtered to remove Ultraviolet (UV) and Infrared (IR) wavelengths. This Intense and Selective Light is directed at the melanin, the pigment contained in, among other things, the hair. After the treatment, virtually all the visible hairs (except white or red hairs) in the treated area then fall out in approximately twenty days.

The sessions are rapid, virtually painless and the results are 2 to 3 times more durable than a properly conducted wax treatment. Over the number of sessions, the number of hairs diminishes.

The remaining hairs thin and their growth becomes slower and slower. Progressively, unsightly hairs in the treated area disappear.
